

Why this all-star turfgrass from Stover Seed® is a top pick for high-use conditions.

Pro Sportsfield BIG BLUE™ All Season Turfgrass from Stover Seed® helps you keep sportsfields and parks looking their best all year round.

With the mild weather conditions in California, sportsfields, golf courses, and parks are in use year-round. The secret to keeping the grass in top condition may not be to work harder but to plant smarter. Thanks to advances in turfgrass genetics, especially Kentucky Bluegrass, Pro Sportsfield BIG BLUE Turfgrass can do a lot of the heavy lifting to help you maintain that coveted green cover. Here are the top reasons to consider this turf manager’s dream grass.

High traffic resistance and fast recovery after events.

Turfgrass on sportsfields and golf courses undergoes tougher wear and tear than most grass. Kentucky Bluegrass spreads by rhizomes and improves turf density – which translates into high traffic tolerance and fast recovery. Quick re-establishment of this turfgrass makes it ideal for overseeding on sportsfields between events.

“I decided to give Kentucky Bluegrass a shot in filling in the bare spots ... it could not have been easier. In a little over a week, the new grass started showing. By the end of the second week, the areas were filled in with thin blades of grass and growing rapidly.

Fully satisfied with the results so far and only see the results getting better. Highly recommend it.”

Parks and sports fields can be beautiful, even without the use of pesticides and fungicides.

You are responsible for complying with environmental mandates – and for keeping people and their pets safe. Pro Sportsfield BIG BLUE makes it easier by combining grasses that are naturally resistant to insects, weeds and disease – including the common turfgrass problem: Dollar Spot.

Retains the coveted green appearance.

The color and quality of the turf or lawns is part of a player’s or visitor’s experience – so your reputation is on the line. With both Kentucky bluegrass and bermudagrass, Pro Sportsfield BIG BLUE offers cool and warm weather seedling vigor so there’s good establishment and actively growing grass all year round.

“Very good product when you follow the advice of professionals! The first time I planted, I didn’t follow the instructions and I didn’t get good results. So, the second time, I did exactly what we were told and I’m quite happy. It’s been about 6 months since we planted and it’s getting even fuller!”
